Battle Near Belgian Border Continues Today With But Little Change in Situation—Verdun Attack Fails.

German naval forces have scored again. The British admiralty announces that the cruiser Hawke was sent to the bottom in the North Sea by a German submarine Thursday. The loss of lives on the Hawke is not made known but the warship belonged to an older class of vessels that carry about 500 officers and men. Only one of her crew are known to have been killed. A sister ship, the cruiser Zephus, was also attacked by a submarine, but escaped.

The French war office announced this afternoon that progress of the allied operations in the Champagne communications has been confirmed. The field of action on the left wing of the allied armies extends from the region of Ypres to the sea.

No official word from Berlin up to early afternoon, but a news dispatch reports that the Germans marching on Ostend are within ten miles of their objective, having occupied Blankenberghe, a town on the Belgian coast, connected by rail with Ostend.

The belief grows in London that Ostend will not be occupied by the Germans until at least they have fought for its possession.

It is reported that British warships will take part in the defense of the Ym.

The French embassy at Washington received advice saying that the place captured Blankenberghe, a town about ten miles north of Ostend. There is no news regarding the fighting on the northern end of the battle line in France. Both armies are known to have been reinforced and are contending every foot of ground with the utmost determination.

The Paris statement says that the Russian troops have repulsed German attacks on Warsaw and Ivanograd in Russian Poland and that a battle is being fought south of Przemyśl.

to class the taking of Ostend with that of Antwerp. In other words they concede it would be a morale and spectacular victory for the Germans but of no great strategic significance. Whether or not this be so, future events can show, but the British contention is that with the sea binding the German right, it loses a weapon heretofore effectively used.

It is pointed out that the chief successes the Germans have attained in the past have been derived from the tactics of envelopment. The channel barrier now prevents this and a decisive blow from the Germans, it is argued, can be delivered only after the allies' frontier has been penetrated.

The arrival of the Germans near Ostend straightens out their line in Belgium so that it runs almost due south connecting with their forces in France. Being jam up to the coast at the north leaves the Germans without a flank anywhere. With no flank to turn it will be necessary for the allies to break the line somewhere and the fiercest fighting to effect this is likely to continue along the Belgian frontier.

Reviews Present Situation.
The correspondent of the Times in Paris in a review of the situation on the French battle front, says:

"The German army corps, which has driven the French from Lille, has had little effect on the whole situation between the river Lys and the town of La Bassée. The situation remains unchanged. The Germans destroyed the town hall of Arras.

"The enemy has abandoned the attempt to batter a way to Paris through the forest of Argonne, and has shifted its efforts on the heights of Premont and southeast of Rheims where the allies have taken several formidable trenches.

"The German efforts to envelope Verdun from the north and from the southeast have been defeated. The position of the German line also pushed through from Pont-a-Mousson to St. Mihiel, is becoming more and more uncomfortable.

Report German Advance.
Washington, Oct. 16.—A course of Hannescomps, southwest of Arras, by the allies, and an advance by the Germans from Audenarde, to Courtrai, were announced in an official dispatch from the French embassy at Washington. The dispatch follows:

"The Germans have advanced from Audenarde toward Courtrai. The enemy occupied the town of Courtrai through Merion-Armentiers-Givency. To the west of La Bassée they are in contact with our troops between that locality and Arras. A violent combat took place northwest of Long to Vermelles, which resulted in our favor. We have taken Hannescomps, southwest of Arras."

Deny German Claim.
The following statement issued by the French embassy today:

"An official telegram received this morning at the French embassy states that there is no truth in the report from German sources that close to Rheims cathedral two French heavy batteries have been located and that signals from the north tower of the cathedral have been observed.

"It seems from the spreading of this report it has come to the knowledge of the Germans that the destruction of the cathedral has been less thorough than they had contemplated.

OFFICERS' CASUALTY LIST FOR ENGLAND

Indicates Twelve Hundred Killed,
Wounded or Missing Since Opening of War.

London, October 16.—An officer's casualty list which embraces the losses from September 29th to October 5th, shows a total including wounded and missing of 116 men.

Added to the previous totals up to September 29th and deducting for wounded men who have died, and missing men who have been accounted for the record shows that since the beginning of the war Great Britain's casualties in officers amounts to 1,203 men of which 280 were killed, 65 wounded and 258 missing.

A total of 53 organizations are mentioned in this latest list. The royal field artillery has thirty officers killed and five wounded and the South Wales borders follows with six casualties, three killed and three wounded.

STATE SOCIALISTS NAME PARTY HEADS

Labor Party Through Secretary Presents Names of Dependents at November Election.

Madison, Oct. 16.—The socialist labor party, through its secretary, Albert Schnabel, of Milwaukee, today filed one thousand names with the secretary of state which entitles the party to a place on the official ballot as independent.

The following names were filed for state office: Governor, John Viethaler, Milwaukee; lieutenant governor, Carl Piepsch, Manitowish; secretary of state, John Ream, Kenosha; state treasurer, Theodore Horn, Milwaukee; attorney general, Bert Manspacher, Racine.

The petition states that Viethaler is a clerk, Piepsch a wood-carver, Ream a steam-fitter, Horn a saddler, and Manspacher a moulder.

NO MALICE MEANT; AWARDED SIX CENTS

Defendant and Plaintiff in Oshkosh
Slander Case for $25,000 Awarded Small Damages.

Oshkosh, Oct. 16.—In the $25,000 slander case of A. H. Hartwig versus O. H. Eliason in circuit court, the jury rendered a verdict awarding six cents damages to both plaintiff and defendant.

The plaintiff sued for $25,000 and the defendant for $50,000 on a counterclaim. The jury decided that statements made by both sides in the action were not made with the intention of malice.

SMOKERS AT THE FRONT PRIZE TOBACCO HIGHLY RECEIVED BY MAIL.

(Correspondence of The A. P.)
London, October 2.—Messages from the front saying that tobacco is like gold dust to the soldier has so touched the sympathy of smokers that mail to the continent is now filled with cigarettes, pipes and plug cut. Societies are formed for the collection of tobacco in its various forms and boxes for such contributions are prominent on hotel desks and club tables and other places frequented by smokers.

While all classes are helping Tommy Atkins to get his smoke, temperance societies are frequently urging the well-known American bishop to ask the men to pledge themselves to refrain from drinking even beer or light wines although they may know the water to be polluted. The bishop himself is not joining the expediatory force.

COURT TAKES STEP TO ENFORCE RULING

New York Supreme Court Issues Order for Railway to Show Why Receiver Should Not Be Appointed.

New York, Oct. 16.—The state supreme court issued an order today directing the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad company to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to take charge of property not already pledged and to institute action to recover from the railroad's directors an amount of damages alleged to have been caused by the railroad's audit creditors.

COTTON RELIEF ONLY MATTER IN DISPUTE

Financial Committee Almost Complete War Revenue Bill.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Taxes on tobacco, wine and telephone and telegraph messages as framed by the financial committee adopted today by the senate as part of the revenue bill leaving the proposed cotton relief proposition as the only matter still in dispute.

The tobacco tax incorporated in the bill would leave a graduated tax of from $3 to $240 on manufacturers of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. Under the wine section manufacturers of all still wines would pay 8 cents a gallon and manufacturers of sweet wine would pay 55 cents per gallon on grape brandy or wine used in the fortification of wine.

RUSSIAN GIRLS AID IN DIGGING TRENCHES

Peasants Helped Russian Troops
Keep Germans From Crossing
Vistula by Digging
Defenses.

London, Oct. 16.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Petrograd says: "The local peasants among them many girls, is attributed in part the failure of the German attempt to cross the Vistula during the recent fighting. The girls aided the Russian soldiers by digging trenches.

"On the initiative of a new English club here, a movement is on foot to raise a detachment of recruits for the British army. Many Lancashire men employed in cotton mills have volunteered. The force will be known as 'The Pals' detachment."

WIDOW OF ENGLISH OFFICER IN STATES

Mrs. Hammond Scott, American
Bride of British Captain Returns Home on Husband's Death.

New York, Oct. 16.—One of the first American bride widows of the war in Europe reached New York today aboard the Oratani. She is Mrs. Henry Hammond Scott, formerly Hazel Brown of Yonkers. She was married on June 10 last. Her husband, Captain Scott of the British army, was killed in the retreat from Mons. He was buried in England and she is returning to her parents in Yonkers.

TRAFFIC IN PANAMA CANAL IS BLOCKED BY GIGANTIC EARTH SLIDE

Washington, Oct. 16.—Col. Goethals cabled the war department today that traffic through the Panama Canal blocked by a landslide into Culabara cut. Wednesday would be reopened in about a week unless there were further earth movements.

CONVENTION AWAITS ZAPATA'S DELEGATES

No Action Will be Taken Upon Question of Carranza's Retirement
Until They Arrive.

Washington, October 16.—General Carranza's resignation has not been presented to the Mexican convention at Aguas Calientes. Today's report to the state department reiterated that the question of his retirement would not be taken up until additional delegates from General Zapata arrived. Official dispatches today said that the temporary organization of the convention had been made permanent and that the delegates whose credentials had been proved numbered 130. Although it is supreme authority, it is not believed that the convention will attempt to exercise legislative or executive functions beyond designating the individual or individuals who shall discharge the executive power in succession to General Carranza. His retirement as "first chief in charge of executive power," is expected on all sides as a matter of course. The delegates are expected to be a candidate in the presidential election and the Mexican constitution prohibits the executives who conduct the election from being a candidate themselves.

Conditions on the west coast of Mexico are rapidly assuming a more peaceful aspect and Rear-Admiral Howard reporting today from the flagship West Virginia at La Paz, predicted the restoration of peace in Lower California.

The Admiral says that Colonel Mendez, chief of the Yaqui Indian forces in that quarter has just returned to La Paz from the hills, and that everything was quiet there with no necessity for soldiers. He expected to return to Guaymas today.

DIVISION IN RANKS AT D. A. R. MEETING

Convention Program Suffers Lapses
When Old Controversy Between Leaders Presents Itself.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 16.—The official program of the state conference of the D. A. R. at the University of Wisconsin, suffered sudden lapses Thursday afternoon and routine business went by the board, while the delegates wrestled vainly with the question of the present moment.

The question involves the legality of the election held in June last year, and the protesting persons are the state regent, Mrs. E. Van Ostrand of this city and Mrs. John P. Hume of Milwaukee. Mrs. Van Ostrand said the state regent at the time of the La Crosse conference and her friends claim that owing to a technicality in certain papers she is still state regent and that Mrs. Hume, who had the majority of votes, is not. Mrs. Hume's friends are just as warmly insisting that she is entitled to the office.

The whole question was threshed out at the national congress in Washington last spring and the national board ruled that Mrs. Van Ostrand should hold office until the end of the term but even the presence of the president general, the official head of that body, is not keeping the delegates from expressing themselves freely about the matter. Therefore the election which takes place this afternoon promises to be a most exciting one and there are whispers of a "dark horse" and a "peace candidate" and the like. All of which, in addition to an interesting program, is making the state conference a notable one in the history of the state organization.

There are 160 out of town delegates and alternates, the largest attendance at any D. A. R. conference ever held in the state.

At the afternoon session, the report of the George R. Clark society, Milwaukee, was given by Mrs. Rudolph Hartman; that of the Fond du Lac society was given by Mrs. E. P. Anderson; that of the Plymouth society by Mrs. Carl Krumrey; and that for the Waukesha society by Mrs. Gertrude Cass. Each is the society's president.

The national report of delegates to the national convention of the Children of the American Revolution, and Mrs. A. J. Emerson, Milwaukee, made the presentation of the C. R. spoon. Then followed reports of chapter regents. Mrs. William Cummings Story, president general, gave an address at the national convention and a reception in her honor followed. Violin numbers were rendered by Madeline Stanchfield of the Fond du Lac society, and Miss Frances Hawley of the Waukesha society.

ALLIES' BATTLESHIPS ATTACK GERMAN FORT

Tokio, Oct. 16.—An official announcement says that Japanese and British warships bombarded this and Hanchuan forts at Tsing Tau Oct. 14, and that an aeroplane destroyed part of the batteries of the forts. In the fighting one British seaman was killed and two injured.

END OF THE DURKEY WILL CASE IS SEEN.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 16.—With the recent death of Mrs. Harriet Blaisdell of Champaign, Ill., the once national famous Durkey case will cease to suffer a relapse, from which it may never be revived, according to prominent attorneys here today. Mrs. Blaisdell was a distant descendant of Colonel Durkey. For years her husband, an attorney, haunted official circles in Washington, until he became physically and mentally weakened by the strain and died. Funds, although the goal had, it ever been achieved, would have meant more than $25,000,000 for the heirs, of whom Mrs. Blaisdell was the principal. The heirs could share in the fund, there being not one state in the union in which some shares were of those directly interested, since the case was founded upon the allegation involving the Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads. During the legal wrangle, lasting in all 35 years, the Durkey will was found providing for the heirs. According to the terms of the will, the government still has this $25,000,000 awaiting the arrival of its legal owner.

BRITISH CRUISER IS SUNK IN NORTH SEA

German Submarine Gets in Deadly Work—Only Fifty Saved Out of Crew of 400.

London, Oct. 16.—The British cruiser, Hawke, has been sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. Out of a crew of 400 men, fifty were saved.

A statement that the British cruiser, Hawke, has been torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea has been officially confirmed.

The British cruiser Hawke was of 7350 tons displacement. She was 360 feet long, of 60 feet beam, and drew 23 feet of water. She was a sister ship of the Edgar, Indomitable, Grafen Thebes and Gibraltar, and was launched in 1891.

Her armament consisted of 29 two-inch guns, ten six-inch guns, twelve six-inch pounders, five three-pounders, two machine guns and two torpedo tubes. Her complement is given as 644 men, but she may well have had fewer on this cruise.

The Hawke was commanded, according to the British admiralty list of September, 1914, by Captain Hugh P. E. T. Williams, and was heretofore commanded by Commander Robert Barlow, and Lieut. Commander Robert R. Roseman.

SIXTH CRUISER SUNK

This disaster of the Hawke follows by about three weeks the sinking in the North Sea of the British cruiser, Aboukir, Hogue and Cressey. These vessels were among the attack on the German submarine and with them some 60 British officers and 1,400 men went down to their death.

While the Hawke was laid down in 1899, she was launched at Chatham on March 11, 1891. Among her officers at the time of this disaster were eight naval cadets.

Other British warships lost since the outbreak of hostilities are the cruiser Amphion, which was sunk in the North Sea by a mine August sixth, and the cruiser Pathfinder, which was sunk in the North Sea Sept. 4. The loss of the Hawke makes a total of six British cruisers destroyed by Germany in the North Sea since the beginning of the war.

British Admiralty's Statement.
The admiralty has given out the following announcement concerning the loss of the cruiser Hawke:

"The British ship, Hawke, Capt. Hugh Edwards, was attacked by a German submarine in the waters of the North Sea yesterday afternoon but was missed. This majestic warship, Hawke, Capt. H. P. Edwards, was attacked about the same time, and was sunk.

The following officers, with forty-nine men of the crew have been landed from a trawler:

Boatswain Sidney Austin, Gunner James Dennis, Acting Gunner Harry Emtell. The remaining officers and men are being cared for.

Further particulars will be published as soon as available.

The Hawke was built in 1891.

The Hawke is the British cruiser which collided with the whale steamer Olympic, Sept. 20, 1911, near Ostorne bay on the north side of the island of Wight.

DENVER VOTING ON OFFICIAL'S RECALL.

Denver, Oct. 16.—The voters of Denver today are deciding whether Alexander Nisbet one of the five commissioners who govern Denver, shall continue as commissioner of public safety or shall be retired. A special election ordered last month by the city council is being held. The principal against Nisbet is Attorney W. C. Dwyer who was one of the petitioners for Nisbet's recall.

JAPANESE ARRIVES FOR WORK AT FAIR.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Goichi Takeda, Japanese architect, who drew the plans for the Japanese pavilion at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition arrived here on the liner Tenyo Maru. The Japanese pavilion will be a reproduction of the temple of Kin Ka Ku Ji at Kioto. Much of the work is being done in Japan and but little time will be required to assemble the timbers on the Exposition grounds.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Sewers Clogged: City street employees are experiencing great trouble in keeping the water main sewers open during the incessant rains because of leaves clogging in the grates and catch basins. No serious trouble has yet been found. Telephone poles, especially in the residential district, have caused trouble blocking the streets on corners and flooding the water.

One in Court: As Municipal Judge Maxfield was in Chicago today no one was arraigned in court. Three were arrested for drunkenness last night but were released this morning.

Settled Today: The Poorhouse bonds, recently issued by the council, were sold to individual parties in the city during the last few days. The bonds amounted to nine thousand dollars.

Given Ninety Days: Chris. Fredrickson of Beloit was yesterday paroled out by Sheriff C. S. Whipple to serve a ninety day sentence, given him by Municipal Judge Charles C. Beloit, for second offense drunkenness. John Quinn was brought to the county jail yesterday afternoon from Beloit to serve a ten day sentence.

Settled Today: District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie was in Beloit today to prosecute the state case against Lansing Winnie, charged with second offense drunkenness. Winnie has been confined to the county jail awaiting his trial.

Council Meeting: An adjourned meeting of the council was held this afternoon. Minor business was transacted. On Tuesday next the annual budget appropriations will be considered. It is hoped by the commission that the city tax rate will be lower than last year despite that Janesville's rate was the lowest in the state.

Notice: The county republican committee and the republican county candidates will meet at the court house at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 17th.

Club to Meet: The Baptist church brotherhood will have their opening meeting on Tuesday night at the church pavers at 8:45 o'clock. The King's Daughters society will serve the supper. S. W. Jeffries and Dr. Nuzum will give addresses on the European war, relating personal experiences in the stricken countries.

Teachers to Meet: Rural teachers of Rock county will hold an educational rally at the high school building in Janesville on Saturday. Large attendance is expected. Speakers of prominence are scheduled to take part at the sessions.

GERMANS' LEFT WING BEING PUSHED BACK

FRENCH FORCES REPORTED TO BE WITHIN STRIKING DISTANCE OF CITY OF METZ.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The steady hammering of the allies on the German left wing of the French battle front has brought them almost within cannon range of the crisis at Metz. In spite of this the main part of the German Crown prince's army hangs on doggedly to the positions it has taken on the Moselle near St. Mihiel. The fighting on this end of the long battle line is said to have been desperate on the part of both sides during the past week though overshadowed for a time by the operations on the allies' left.

More important developments, however, are looked for between the Meuse and the Moselle, while the battle of the four rivers goes on in the west.

HARD WEEK'S BATTLE

French Proficiency in Use of Machine Guns Proves Big Factor in Desperate Fighting.

French Proficiency in Use of Machine Guns Proves Big Factor in Desperate Fighting.

The French are now in possession of the four river valley to Metz as far as Daguy on the Lorraine border, and menace the route from Verdun to Metz in the neighborhood of Elzass endangering communications with the Crown Prince's army with the German fortified camp.

The 14th regiment has covered itself with glory after taking a village at the point of the bayonet. The infantry were forced to abandon the place because of a murderous artillery fire. They went back to the attack on the following day, retaking the village, and held it in spite of a continual bombardment. An entire German brigade was sent to dislodge them, but the 14th held the position inflicting a staggering defeat on their assailants and taking 150 prisoners.

Regiment Wins Honors.
At another solidly entrenched village the same regiment kept step by step until they got right up to the trenches of the enemy which they carried gallantly at the point of the bayonet, thus gaining a point for the support of the entire line. For this exploit the regiment has been named in orders.

Alsace continues also the scene of daily struggles for the possession of points of vantage the resulting of which it is difficult to ascertain, as fortunes vary so rapidly. Towns are taken and retaken repeatedly. The heavy fighting in the southern end of the battle line indicates that the French have profited by the weakening of the German force to regain ground they had lost there.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

The European war, with all its horrible details, has so absorbed public thought and attention that home affairs have been neglected. This neglect is not an unmixed evil, because it has cemented the people, relegate to the rear a lot of fanatical reformers, and caused our public servants at Washington to stop and think before continuing their policy of destruction. That the war will aid the democratic party is generally admitted, not because the party has redeemed itself from inefficiency, but because of the reflex influence it enjoys because of the popularity won by President Wilson, in the wisdom displayed in dealing with a trying situation. The argument is already being used that he should be rewarded by a second term.

Deprived of all sentiment there is no force in this argument, for however popular he may be, the fact remains that the party behind him is the same old party, only worse, because it is now controlled by southern representatives, and influenced by the policy which they dictate. The war tax alone is sufficient evidence to verify this fact.

Speaking of this war tax, what excuse is there for it? None whatever except to save the scalp of the democratic party from a bond issue made necessary by extravagance and incompetency. The party is not only extravagant but so inefficient that it seeks to kill the hen which lays the golden eggs, through destructive laws and burdensome regulation.

More important than the success of the progressive party, gratifying the ambition of its popular Bull Moose leader, is the electing of a republican congress, in the interests of self-protection, and a return to sanity. The Chicago Tribune, in discussing this question from the southern angle, offers the following sensible advice:

"The news from Washington raises a serious question whether all people living in the middle west will not have to vote against all democratic congressional candidates."

"The middle west was not seriously offended at the battle cry of Washington, which started two years ago—'The south is in the saddle.'"

"The middle west has never been in the saddle," and has not found the east a particularly light rider.

"But the east never attempted to legislate money from one section to another in the barefaced way that the southern leaders have done during their brief period of power."

"The south is in the saddle!"

"Southern congressmen, elected by only a handful of constituents, dominate the democratic party."

"The northern democratic members attempt nothing stronger than to take orders. The office and the perquisites of office are sufficient for their ambitions."

"Thus, middle western democratic congressmen helped to put through a tariff bill discriminating against their own constituents."

"Thus, they voted for a revenue bill one feature of which was to provide for the forcible transfer of funds from the middle west to the south."

"Most of them voted for the war tax bill, raising money chiefly in the north; and they voted for a 'pork barrel' river and harbor bill to spend this same money in the southern bays."

"We learn now that the 'pork barrel' bill is only postponed, not defeated; that if a democratic congress is elected it will tax northern industries to pour money into southern creeks."

"So far have these politicians progressed that although they have legislated values out of northern securities and industries they purpose to legislate an artificial value into southern cotton."

"If our southern rulers were content to be benevolently disposed, we might not complain so bitterly of the supine democratic congressmen from this neighborhood, who only do their best bidding."

"But unfortunately, we find that rule from the south is like all foreign rule, oppressive."

"If the middle westerners are not willing to make the effort to secure the election of congressmen to represent their districts they must make up their minds to pay heavily in taxes during a period when money will not be too plentiful."

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

A subscriber to The Weekly Blade, living in Pennsylvania, has sent us an account of a daybook kept in 1814 by one of his forebears, the keeper of a general store in Amity township, Berks county. From this daybook one catches a glimpse not only of what one hundred years ago it cost the Pennsylvania citizen to live, but also a glimpse of how he lived. For instance, "with nearly every bill of goods charged would be attached one gallon of whisky, rum or brandy, price 25 cents." Homes were lighted with candles, "costing anywhere from 37½ cents to 87½ cents a pound."

"Calico was 37½ cents to 75 cents per yard."

"A pea was $1 a pound."

"In one charge a man bought one-quarter of a veal at 4 cents a pound."

"Eggs were never more than 10 cents per dozen, with 6 to 8 cents the common price."

"Chickens, 12½ to 18 cents apiece; geese, 25 cents to 37½ cents apiece."

"Beef, 8 to 4 cents; wool, 10 cents to 12½ cents per pound; mutton, 50 cents per yard."

"The climax was reached in one charge—one bushel of salt, $35."

"We seem to have boxed the compass in the matter of the costs of living. One hundred years ago it was manufactured goods and commodities against which transportation costs were charged which were high, food that was cheap. Today factory products are cheap, food dear. We wonder if things will ever be so comfortably arranged that food and manufactured goods and commodities from far distances will all be cheap.—Toledo Blade."

This scrap of history is a reminder of the fact that times have radically changed during the past century. There was a time, not so long ago, when corn was used for fuel in some of the western states, because there was no demand and no market for it, but these were hard times not only for the farmer but for everyone else as well.

Ten cent corn means ten cent bacon and everything else in proportion, including wages. The ten billion dollar crops, which have become an established annual record, shrink to insignificance, and with the shrinkage goes the price of land and all other values.

We harp so much about the high cost of living in these days of uplift and reform that the complaint has become chronic, but we overlook the fact that good prices and good times always go hand in hand, and forget to remember that we ought to be thankful that we live in the most prosperous era that the country has ever known.

The day of the stage coach has passed. It had its compensations, which our forefathers enjoyed to the full, but the people of today would hesitate if asked to forsake the broader horizon, with its modern equipment, and return to the simple life. It is well to appreciate the advantages of the twentieth century.

One student of European affairs writes that the present struggle between the Teutonic and Slav peoples had its inception in the days when the Austrian empire was created to drive the Turk back into Asia Minor and keep him up in the little peninsula possession that the first Balkan war drove him out of. Well and true, but it is unfortunate that the world did not appreciate it and take steps to eliminate such a possibility when there was time.

What Janesville schools need is a thorough over-hauling as regards the seating facilities. Puffing little seats where their feet do not touch the floor and big students in small seats where they are crowded and uncomfortable may be economy, but it is not conducive to good scholarship. No farmer who has good cattle will pen them up for hours each day where they are uncomfortable, but school children perhaps do not matter.

Have you noticed how quiet and peaceful the university is at present as regards state politics. Times was when the president would have advised the voters of the state to do this or that and his faculty would have been most active in the campaign. Perhaps they read the handwriting on the wall and fear the coming avalanche of the voters who have tired of the domination of the university in state politics.

More important than anything else is the securing of a good, strong legislature pledged to economy of state affairs, reduction of the powers of various commissions who have assumed governmental authority and the restriction of others that promise to become obnoxious if left unrestricted. To accomplish this Rock county must do its share and Whittier and Winegar are the two men who should be elected with this in view.

The University of Wisconsin has abandoned the idea of sending a crew east each summer to compete in the Hudson river regatta. They say it is bad on the hearts of the athletes, it is bad on their hearts as it is on the temper of the average varsity rower who sees the crew go down in defeat each year without any good excuse for being vanquished. It is a wise move, however, and will save lots of trouble in the future.

Blaine may be the candidate of a few men, but the vast majority of voters of the state are going to show their independence by casting their ballot for one of the two regular party nominees. The day is past when the voters can be fooled all the time by the oily-tongued wind-jammers who pose as their friend once every two years when election time comes around.

The boxing game is not dead, but merely sleeping. What it needs is a few good take matches to put it actually to sleep as far as the public is concerned and when the dollars fail to come the front door then the fighters will have to go to work and earn an honest living.

The students who said that modern civilization did not approve of warfare must have received a severe jolt when the accounts of the stupendous loss of life is counted up as recorded in the daily dispatches that slip through the war censor's office.

If the Rock County Sugar company had continued in business this year and manufactured its usual amount of sugar just think what a profit the output would have been to the owner and to the grower.

Thousands of men are losing their lives, thousands more are being shot and maimed for the rest of their existence that the glory of a nation, the desire of emperors for a world power may be gratified.

Now that baseball is a thing of the past let us turn our attention to King Football and count up the losses sustained on the gridiron in this peaceful and healthy game.

On The Spur of The Moment

The Sissy Man.
He picks out all his wife's gown and tells her how to have them made. And he is more particular about the cut and fit and shade.

He loves to fuss around with plants and is an expert in point lace. A raving thing upon his coat is nothing short of a disgrace.

He does on Mr. Edward Bok and Margaret Sangster and the ilk. And he can tell, just by the feel, the shoddy from the best of silk.

He hangs around the kitchen and he passes out expert advice. On how to cook and how to serve and how to do the thing up nice.

He writes a small and perfect hand. Spencerian in every way. Immaculate in his attire he wears a new shirt every day.

His manouring is immense. He spends a lot of time at that. When he goes out he spends a half an hour in trying on his hat. No microbe ever gets him. He knows their little ways by heart.

He is a sanitary hand and germus with him can have no part.

Trot out your trunks and line 'em up and try to show us if you can. One who has got a thing upon that tireless pest, the sissy man.

The feller that admire Europe to be blamed much ought to go over there and live and give us satisfied Americans a much needed rest.

When you will have to git along with American styles for a while and the chances are that they will look a blamed sight better than they did before.

The only fellow that looks for trouble and chaos is a blind man. Every time there is a terrible calamity, most of the folks seem to git back to the old-fashioned religion. It is to be hoped that most of the church tango dancers have been sent to the front.

At the huskin' bee over to Anse Higgins' place last night Rev. Hudnutt got a red ear and kissed the school marshall and the official board of the Methodist church expect to take the matter up and call him on the carpet. The sewing circle is so excited over the "affair" that they have had to have three meetings this week.

Miss Pensy Tibbitts is busy making Christmas presents in shape of flannel penwipers for her admirers. Not wishing to be egotistical at all, she says she thinks five or six dozen will be enough to go around.

Old Hank Purdy says he has had so much trouble lately that he is going to put grindstones on his car for wheels.

Prof. Hank Simms, conductor of the Silver Cornet band, says he would about as soon be a conductor on a freight train or a street car, where a feller kin have some peace once in a while. There is so much jealousy in the band that every time they give a concert every feller has to have a solo number excepting the bass and snare drum, and this far he have stumped. Then, excepting that the slide trombone player has to go to work in the saw mill and the flat cornet was called away by the death of his grandfather from old age.

War Notes—The Biplane.
The biplane does not flap its wings up and down in flight as does the goose or that other celebrated bird of passage, the turkey. The wings remain stationary and the only thing about the biplane that flops is the tail and this goes around at the rate of four million revolutions per second. When a biplane is doing its dullest it makes a noise which resembles a cross between a saw mill and a boiler factory. It rattles like the bones end of a minstrel first part of a combination tannery and glue factory.

The quietest one I ever heard sounded like a $9 automobile going over a corduroy road with its diaphragm banging against its rear axle. I don't know where the smoke-stack is on the biplane. They keep it carefully concealed and I don't know where they dump their ashes. They stay up two or three hours at a time and never spill a thing on the crowd, excepting perhaps a few monkey wrenches and now and then a mechanic or an aviator.

Degrees of Fools.
There are a lot of durn fools in the world, including the girl who imagines she looks pretty when she is wearing a man's hat.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BRONCHIAL COUGHS

When the bronchial tubes are affected with that weakening, tickling cough, they need immediate and sensible treatment. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present and your head aches with every cough. Your chest aches and the inflammation often spreads to the lungs.

The food-tonic that has proven its worth for forty years—is Scott's Emulsion. It drives out the cold, which is the root of the trouble, and checks the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

If you are troubled with bronchitis or know an afflicted friend, always remember that Scott's Emulsion builds strength while relieving the trouble. 14-41 Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Conditions prevailing the past year brought out very plainly the superiority of our western farm mortgages. They have remained unscathed and worth 100 cents on the dollar.

The security above mentioned is land—good fertile, farming land that has just reduced a fine crop now being marketed at advanced prices. We found this security good many years ago, and has grown better every year.

ENROLLMENT GROWS AT EVENING SCHOOL

ATTENDANCE REACHES 350 MARK
AT MEETING OF CLASSES
LAST NIGHT.

CALL FOR MORE MEN

Principal Hill Not Satisfied With Way
May Residents Are Taking Advantage of School.

The evening school, with its twenty-five expert instructors, met last night at the high school and industrial school buildings in the second session of the year. An additional attendance of fifty brought the total enrollment up to over three hundred and fifty students, now actively engaged in some one branch of study in which they are interested.
Principal Hill is not at all satisfied with the way the men of the city are taking advantage of the school.
Barely a hand full out of the total enrollment could be counted last evening. There are so many good and valuable courses for the men, with instructors that are highly experienced, that the classes should all be overflowing with interested men in the city. Hill says.
G. A. Anders' class in practical bookkeeping and commercial correspondence, is one of the most helpful courses in the curriculum. Modern up-to-date bookkeeping, with all its new ideas, are contained in this system taught by Mr. Anders.
Machine drawing and shop mathematics, under the direction of A. A.
Pink, should attract a good deal of attention among men interested in that particular line. The class can accommodate a large number yet.
The French class has some twenty members enrolled. An advanced class will be started in a couple of weeks. Father John Recchia, priest at the Mercy Hospital, is the instructor.

The dressmaking class is leading all other classes for attendance, last evening an additional room having been necessary to accommodate the overflowing students.
Next Tuesday night Principal Hill asks that there be a record attendance and enrollment at the evening school.

TO VOTE BY BALLOT AT FALL ELECTION

FREAK LAW PROVIDING SECOND CHOICE VOTE ON SENATOR IS THE REASON.

BETTER SATISFACTION

Additional Expense for County Will Be Slight and Voters Will Be Better Pleased.

Wisconsin voters will vote by ballot at the coming November election. Word was received here on Thursday that the state supreme court had decided that all balloting must be done on paper tickets marked by the individual voter, thus barring the use of the machines. The reason for the decision is said to be the provision in the law governing the process of electing the United States senator which provides that the ballot shall give a place for a second choice vote. This arrangement would be impossible on the machines.

County Clerk Lee has already awarded the contract for printing the ballots for Rock county and his order includes tickets enough for the city of Janesville which is the only district where the machine will be used. It was permissible. Beloit purchased several machines a number of years ago but they were never used to any extent and have not been employed at all for the last five or six years. In Janesville a machine was provided for every precinct and has been used whenever possible.

Expense Slightly More. The expense of voting by ballot will be slightly more than if the machine were used, but the cost is stood by the county with the exception of the two extra ballot clerks who are required in each precinct. These are paid by the city at the rate of $5.00 each, which will be $50 for the city.

These familiar with election machinery declare that the use of paper ballots will be much more satisfactory to the voters. One man estimated that 20 electors would remain away from the polls in Janesville if the machines were used. The reason for this, it was said, was that voters often become confused in operating the machine, no matter how carefully its mechanism is explained, and through some slip their vote is invalidated. This was demonstrated at the last election on the question of purchasing the water works plant when fifty or more votes were rejected.

Politicians familiar with the state situation are well pleased with the

THINK HARD.

It Pays to Think About Food. The unthinking life some people lead often causes trouble and sickness, illustrated in the experience of this lady.

"About four years ago I suffered dreadfully from indigestion, always having eaten whatever I liked, not thinking of the digestible qualities. This indigestion caused palpitation of the heart so badly I could scarcely walk up a flight of stairs without stopping to rest, and tried dieting, wore my clothes very loose, and used other remedies, but found no relief.

"Hearing of the virtues of Grape-Nuts and Postum, I commenced using them in place of my usual breakfast of coffee, cakes or hot biscuit, and in one week's time I was relieved of sour stomach and other ills attending indigestion. In a month's time my heart was performing its functions naturally and I could climb stairs and hills and walk long distances.

"I gained ten pounds in this short time, and my skin became clearer and I completely regained my health and strength. I continue to use Grape-Nuts and Postum for I feel that I owe my good health entirely to their use.

"I like the delicious flavour of Grape-Nuts and by making Postum according to directions, it tastes similar to mild high grade coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"The most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts and cream 10 days proves. 'There's a Reason.'"

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

supreme court's ruling as it will leave no doubt as to the election's validity. Although it will probably mean that there will be more splitting of tickets is not a cause for apprehension among either the democrats or the republicans.

Kletzsch Satisfied. Alvin P. Kletzsch, chairman of the republican state central committee, who brought the action which resulted in the present decision, on Thursday expressed satisfaction at the verdict.

"We are now assured in what manner the voting can be made safe," is Kletzsch's statement. Had the question remained unsettled, it is possible the machines would have been used for the state ticket and that separate ballots would have been furnished for the senatorial election, and that the whole vote would later have been declared illegal.

"Voting will be expedited," continued Mr. Kletzsch. "Several men can now mark their ballots minutely while under the machine system of voting one person could vote at a time, and the voter often became confused and by some slip would invalidate his vote."

Returns Will Be Later. The returns in Janesville and for the state as a whole will be later as a result of the ruling. Whereas the final count in Janesville would have been known shortly after eight o'clock, it will probably be close to midnight before the city returns are completed. In Milwaukee county it will be even later. The result in the country precincts, however, should be known by eight or nine o'clock.

PAPER ANNIVERSARY IN MR. AND MRS. ED. LITTS' HONOR HELD LAST EVENING

In celebration of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Litts, a surprise was given them last evening by Mr. and Mrs. James Zanias at their new home on Cherry street.

Fifteen guests gathered, surprised and congratulated the bride and groom of one year. It being their "paper anniversary," many odd and beautiful gifts of paper were presented to the couple. The home was tastefully decorated throughout with paper flowers also. Chrysanthemums were used in the reception room and pink roses in the dining room. After a delicious supper, refreshments were served.

WALK AROUND LAKE MENDOTA ON WAGER

Waller B. Miller, crack all-around athlete and former minor league baseball star of Madison, and Warren Knowlton of West Allis, walked around Lake Mendota. The distance amounts to twenty-two miles and a wager was made for the best time. Miller completed the loop the best time in 4:30:00. Knowlton's time was 4:40:00.

Reasons Why Fall Plowing Will Increase Productivity

By Allen B. West.

On a certain Wisconsin farm there was grown last year 133 bushels and 39 lbs. of corn on an acre. When the U. W. farm agent last summer visited this farm last summer they found there a practical demonstration of the value of fall plowing. One field had been treated in the following manner:

One portion had been measured in the fall and plowed; the second strip had been manured in the fall and plowed in the spring; a third had been both manured and plowed in the spring. The difference was noticeable as far as one could see the corn that which had been both manured and plowed in the fall producing corn which in June stood a foot higher than that of the second strip which was manured in fall and plowed in spring and a corresponding difference was shown between the second and third portions.

Now why is fall plowing better than spring plowing? There are several answers to this question.

First, fall plowing conserves moisture. It does this in various ways. Perhaps the most obvious is the fact that it loosens the soil so that the rain does not run off the surface but penetrates below.

Again when the furrow is first turned the capillary attraction between the subsoil and the furrow slice is broken so that the furrow slice soon dries out, receiving little or no moisture from below, the amount depending on the thoroughness with which the connection is broken. This is done in the fall the furrow slices settles and the capillary connection is restored before the time of planting.

Again unless this capillary action is interrupted before it reaches the surface valuable moisture is given off as is the case when the surface is smooth and hard. For this reason fall plowing conserves moisture by giving the surface a rough, uneven, and porous surface or dust which keeps the moisture in that portion of the soil where it will be available for plant growth.

Fall plowing conserves moisture by killing the weeds for weeds take large quantities of water. This is one reason son why weeds are so injurious to crops. They rob the soil of moisture. Hence stubble ground that has been left to grow up to weeds dries out excessively.

Aside from the conservation of moisture, fall plowing enables one to get rid of a large number of weeds because one can follow the plowing by harrowing, and having opportunity to plow over the land several times. Crops of weeds springing up are killed, leaving the ground for the cultivated crop which the farmer wishes to raise. On many farms the soil is so pre-empted by the weeds that the cultivated crop has only a poor showing.

Fall plowing gives opportunity for the "weathering" of the subsoil. Just how freezing and thawing improves the soil might be difficult to explain without going too deeply into the chemistry and composition of soils, but the "weathering" of the soil is a process with which every farmer is more or less familiar and one of recognized value.

Fall plowing helps to rid farms of insect pests.

A very valuable service done the land by fall plowing is the killing of insect pests. Many of the farmers' enemies spend their dormant state in the earth in larval state, or as cocoons or as chrysalides. Fall plowing destroys great numbers of these. A writer in the National Geographic Society has said that there are two kinds of farmers, one who plows in the fall and the other who knows he should plow in the fall but who thinks perhaps next spring will do nearly as well if he can't conveniently do it in the fall.

HOLLAND'S SUPPLY OF WHEAT FAIRLY EXHAUSTED RYE BREAD A SUBSTITUTE

(Correspondence of The A. P.) Amsterdam, Oct. 16.—A scarcity of wheat flour is felt in Holland. At a meeting last Saturday the bakers of Velsen decided to bake bread only. The Netherlands produce very little wheat, rye and barley being the principle cereal crops. Due to the fact that during the last four weeks wheat has been imported, owing to the vigorous enforcement of the contraband by the British and French cruisers, the supply of wheat is nearly exhausted.

Your feet would ache if you walked from house to house of all real estates concerns in looking for the place where there are rooms for rent. A few minutes study of the Gazette Want Ads will give you a list of the most desirable places.

Audenard—A Belgian town in the situated in one of the most hilly districts of Belgium. Its inhabitants are engaged in sheep-raising, salt-mining and lumbering. The town's population is about 8,600.

Opatow—A small town in southern Russian Poland, 33 miles east of Kielec and 17 miles northwest of Sandomir, on the Opatowka, an affluent of the Vistula River. Until the middle of the 13th century it was regarded as one of the finest examples of the transition style in Belgium. The town is one of the oldest in the country. Polish historians attribute it to the Goths in the 5th century. In the middle ages it underwent many memorable sieges and its fortress of 1053 was destroyed in 1783. The famous battle between the allies, under Prince Eugene and the forces of Marlborough and the French, took place before its walls in 1708. The town manufactures leather, tapestry, hats, soap, pottery, calico, beer. Its population is about 6,500.

Tongres—A town of eastern Belgium 12 miles southwest of Maastrecht and 13 miles southeast of Hasselt, on the Jaar river. Nearby is a mineral spring noted by Pliny. A villa spread ruin over the place. The town had risen to a position of considerable importance, and the Normans devastated it in 881. It finally fell into the hands of the French in 1677. Some of the remains of the walls which formerly enclosed the town still exist. Its chief output is straw hats. Tongres has several tanneries and is an important market for grain and pigs. Its population is about 10,000.

One of the numerous picturesque "bee towns" of Belgium whose inhabitants gain the major portion of their livelihood from the sale of honey. It is on the French frontier, six miles northwest of Tournai and 50 miles from Lille. The town has linen factories and an active trade in wax and butter. Its inhabitants number approximately 5,000.

Amusements

AT THE MYERS.

Vaudeville opens tonight for the last of the week with three more than ordinarily good acts. The Florenz Trio is one of the acts the Western Vaudeville Circuit puts out. They offer comedy and acrobatic oddities entitled "Fun in a Restaurant." Live-sey and Gonne are known as vaudeville's daintiest pair, and they look the part. A more clever couple would be hard to find. Stone and King are comedians in song and talk. With brand new jokes and catchy songs they come well heralded.

"Trey O' Hearts." Tonight the eighth episode of the thrilling motion picture serial, the "Trey O' Hearts," will be seen at the Myers. This installment, "The Mock Rose," contains many sensational scenes. The Herald News movies will also be shown tonight giving the news of the world.

"He Fell in Love With His Wife." A new character comedy, "He Fell in Love With His Wife," that scored such a conspicuous success at the Cort Theatre, Chicago, a season ago, will be seen for the first time in this city on Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Myers Theatre, matinee and night.

Gertrude Ritchie in "He Fell in Love With His Wife," At the Myers Theatre, Thursday, Oct. 22nd.

"He Fell in Love With His Wife," dramatized for the stage from E. P. Roe's world read novel of the same name, received unanimous praise from every paper in Chicago at the time of its presentation, and that the critics were justified in "calling the turn" on its prosperity, the present engagement will easily attest. H. S. Sheldon is responsible for having made the book into a successful play, and to those that saw his well-known success, in which Henry Miller starred for two years, entitled "The Havoc," and know of his more recent triumphs of this season, entitled "Men and a Daughter of the City," "He Fell in Love With His Wife," will be doubly interesting, as he is past master in the constructing of a splendid gripping play. An excellent company, under the direction of the United Play company, will present the play here.

AT THE APOLLO.

A well filled house greeted one of the best vaudeville bills that has ever been shown here. Charles Terris and company presents a very dramatic sketch, "The Preacher and the Man" in which Mr. Terris plays in a remarkable manner the role of a broad minded minister. It is not a farce as many of such acts are, but a really high class offering with carefully arranged stage settings.

Billy Baker makes things disappear and reappear again in a way that while you are wondering how he does it you are laughing at the way he put it over. All of his sleight of hand tricks are good and not at all tiresome. The Troy Comedy Four combine breezy comedy with good singing which were well received last night.

Dustin Farnum. Dustin Farnum and William Elliot will be seen Monday in a photo play dramatization of the Williamsons' celebrated novel, "The Lightning Conductor." On Tuesday will be seen "The Last Volunteer" in six parts, a play equal to "The Littlest Rebel" in its success and action. On Wednesday "The Fortune Hunter" comes back again.

The Famous Sealed-Bonnet Car

To Make 7,500 Miles—or 250 Miles Per Day for 30 Consecutive Days

Here's the greatest test ever devised for an automobile. The bonnet or hood of this car was sealed Wednesday, Sept. 23rd, 1914, by Chief of Police Gleason, at the City Hall. And started on a 7,500-mile run to make 250 miles per day for 30 consecutive days. No other automobile manufacturer ever attempted a similar daily distance record for his car for 30 days with sealed bonnet. This is unique in motor car records! But this artistic car will successfully accomplish its prodigious task. Bate "two-unit three-point suspension construction" and the super-excellence of its making will assure that.

And when it finishes its tremendously long run in Pittsburgh one month hence, this sturdy car will have faithfully carried out all the exacting requirements imposed upon it. Some car to do that!

Just a "stock" car too—identical with those on our floor—that we are prepared to demonstrate to you—to let you drive yourself. We know because of the 35,000 Mitchells in use and the sixteen years motor car manufacturing experience back of them. These tell us that Mitchell 1915 models will stand up under any reasonable task—they're sure, reliable, speedy, lightweight and attractive.

Holiness to the Lord

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant to the Dean
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Exodus 28:35, Zechariah 14:20, Revelation 2:4.

As these three verses are quoted, it will be seen that there is a connection between them and that all have to do with our theme, "Holiness to the Lord." We are given—

The Purpose of Holiness—Exodus 28:35 reads, "And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, 'Holiness to the Lord.'" This inscription was worn upon the mitre of the high priest, who stood as the representative of Israel. The word used for holiness has as its root idea separation, dedication; hence this inscription meant that Israel was separated unto the Lord. This word may be applied to inanimate things, such as the vessels and vestments of the sanctuary; but in the case of men, such separation as the word sets before us will result in moral purity and righteousness.

How do we need to be thus set apart to God? This separation is to reach the heart and life as well as our service. One might even go to the foreign field and yet be unyielded to God, so far as the daily life is concerned.

Such separation is expected of all Christians, for in the New Testament all are spoken of as saints—separated ones. We have heard of a teacher who called the worst cheat in his class, Honest; the most tardy boy, Punctual; the most indolent boy, Diligent. As they were so addressed from day to day, they grew ashamed and tried more and more to live up to their names. God calls us saints; let us be saints—separated ones.

The Permeation of Holiness—Zechariah 14:20 reads, "In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, Holiness unto the Lord; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar." This refers primarily to the happy millennial day which is coming. At that time, holiness shall so permeate life that kitchen utensils shall be as holy as the vessels of the house of God. Even the horses, which were not commonly used in Israel because they savored so much of war and display, shall be consecrated; the very inscription, once placed upon the priest's mitre, shall be found on their bells. But while this passage looks to the future, we may even now permeate our lives with holiness.

Our diversions may be hallowed. Many are mad at this point, yet our recreations may be indulged in religiously. In order to better service for the Lord. We may even consecrate some things which, under certain circumstances, would not be lawful. A young man found that the very violin which had been a snare could be used to glorify God; this was like writing on the bells of the horses, Holiness to the Lord.

Business may be sacred. A man was told that his heart was diseased and death might come at any time. He said to his employees, "In the future, this business will be so conducted that if my master comes at any moment, I will not be ashamed." This attitude towards Jesus Christ will make all business sacred.

All our work may be sanctified. A busy life need not hinder fellowship with God. Have we noticed that the Levites acted as butchers, bakers, merchants, lawyers, physicians, teachers, and did many lowly things, such as lighting the lamps, sweeping the floors and preparing the wood for the altar? Yet they were ministers of the Lord! Our Lord Jesus Christ toiled for 30 years at Nazareth, yet when he came forth God said, "This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased." Paul says, even to slaves, "Whosoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men." To serve the Lord Christ. (Col. 3:23, 24.)

The Perfection of Holiness—Revelation 22:4 reads, "His name shall be in their foreheads." This passage looks back to the one first read; the name of the Lord shall be inscribed on the brow of the glorified just as it was once inscribed on the mitre of Israel's priest.

This implies ownership, for we write our names upon that which is ours. But more than ownership is implied, for the name of God stands for his character. God's very character shall be written upon us, and at last we shall be like him!

An African girl, asked to bring a gift for Jesus, sold herself as a slave and brought the price, since she had nothing else to give. May we feel, with her, the force of this appeal: "For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that one died for all, therefore all died; and he died for all, that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose again." (II Cor. 5:14, 15 E. V.)

Passing of the Epitaph.

A monument dealer says but few people now have epitaphs on the monuments of their loved ones. It is getting so in many cases that you can't guess a fellow's final destination by the way the marble tablet routes him.

Fourth Quarter. Lesson III. Mark 14: 32-42. Oct. 18, 1914.

In the Garden of Gethsemane. (The Story.)

The harvest-moon lighted coldly a weird scene: pale faces, a tomb's pearly dawn into a shadowy valley; a brook on its way to the Sea of Death and running red with blood of thousands of lambs slain that day; gnarled old olive trees, whose twisted trunks seemed to express the weary world that tribulation under which the whole creation groaneth.

As Jesus passed the snowy porches of the temple and came down into the forbidding chasm, would not recall to him how his great progenitor, thrust out of the same city, had crossed this very brook? The separation of the disciples into two bands was not an act of favoritism. In this instance, paradoxically the station most remote from the Shepherd was the safest. The feeling that can be touched for human infirmity showed itself in the very disposition which Jesus made of the following. The two who had asked to be baptized with his baptism, and the one who had first acknowledged his Messiahship—these three, the same who had with him in the Transfiguration—were deemed best suited to go with him into the depth of his humiliation. Jesus wanted the consciousness that human sympathizers were near; wanted to be guarded from intrusion; wanted that there should be witnesses, so that the scene might be transmitted to the Church. The disciples were drowsy, but not wholly disqualified for this successful purpose. Even these comparatively hardy companions he does not bluntly announce the nature of his ordeal. He says only, and considerably, that he goes to pray. The source and nature of Jesus' agony is inexplicable. If you say it was natural shrinking from the hour and article of death, then it must be said Jesus appeared to have died less heroically than many a martyr—nay, even a dog, heathen or apostate. But this agony was as unlike any merely human sorrow in its nature as it exceeded all in its degree. All human analogies are inadequate. There Jesus, as the second Adam, began to bear the griefs and to carry the sorrows of all the descendants of the first Adam. Though the suffering manifested itself in his physical nature, the chief seat of it was in his moral nature. It was reversed on Golgotha. There only one word out of seven indicated any degree of moral suffering. . . . Away with the idea that Jesus had a sense of personal condemnation, as if he were the object of his Father's wrath, and so that, in that sense, Gethsemane was the "hell of the Son of God!" He so became one with us as to appreciate the grief and sorrow of the whole race with such a keenness as that it became his own, and well-nigh insupportable. Alas! not this have been that cup which, if it were morally possible, he wished might be supplanted by some other? It is with him only a question of means. His unshaken purpose is to do his Father's will. The Father is not hating the Son on to something which he reviles. Father's will is Son's delight. . . . The loneliness of Jesus is nowhere more conspicuous and touching than in Gethsemane. He coveted human sympathy. It pained him to be lonely for comforters, but found none. He trod his wine-press alone, unhelped. . . . The quality of Jesus' submission is not depreciated by the agony through which he passed. It is rather enhanced. His perfection is manifested thereby. The Captain of salvation is made to appear—as he really is—perfect through the medium of his suffering. . . . It is not affirmed, think that from the top of this same mount, at whose base Jesus suffered such agony, he ascended in triumph. He stopped here; he conquered there.

The Teacher's Lantern. Gethsemane was one of Jesus' trying-places. On a starry night he had communed with his disciples there. In its deeper depths, as the stars threw from the nearest of them, he had often met his Father in completest fellowship. The ground was already hallowed for this final ordeal. His Father's face was not eclipsed even by Gethsemane's midnight gloom. No shadow of a doubt of his Sonship or even acceptance with his Father, crosses his mind. "Father! Father!" is his confident and reiterated address.

The exudation of blood from the pores is perhaps not a physiological impossibility; but it is not affirmed. A comparison only is expressed. The moisture was not first evenly distributed afterwards gathered into drops. As in the death-sweat, it was pressed out at once in the form of drops or beads which of their own weight fell to earth. . . . How true to nature the account of the Son's prayer! The dying and those in extreme distress commonly repeat the same words. . . . Stier pronounces the Epistle to the Hebrews, chapter 5, verses 7, 8, as the "most apostolic commentary" on Gethsemane.

Spirit willing, flesh weak, is one of the best perverted Bible texts. It is used as a salve to conscience. Meanest vices are excused and justified by it. The text does not belong to the sinner at all. Only of the regenerated son of God can it be truly said, "His spirit is ready, willing to do as God wishes." But even such a one needs to be ever alert against the susceptibility of the carnal nature. In the sinner the flesh is willing as well as weak. His spirit is not willing to do at all as God wishes.

The Young People's Devotional Service. October 18, 1914. Habakkuk 2:1-4. A Saloonless Nation! Why Not? How?

"Wee to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city by iniquity!" It is somewhat the disgrace of our day that, while society has been lagging in addressing itself to the problem of drink on high moral grounds, it now finds it self forced to a solution on economic, sanitary, and police grounds. Drink, directly or indirectly, costs four thousand million dollars per annum. That is more than the conduct of government in all its branches. It is more than loss by fire, flood, and disease. The abatement of this prodigious bill is imperative. Once more it is beginning to be discovered that the house of this nation is divided. America can not survive half drunk and half sober!

AMANDA PEDERSON WEDDED THURSDAY

Janesville Young Lady United in Marriage to Melvin Gunnness, In Pretty Afternoon Wedding.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pederson at 333 Madison street when their daughter, Amanda, was united in marriage to Melvin Gunnness of this city. Rev. J. Linnevald officiating, the ring ceremony being used.

Just preceding the ceremony Otto Berg of Beloit sang, "Oh Promise me, and at promptly four o'clock the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Otto Berg of Beloit, the bride descended the stairs attended by her sister, Miss Josephine, and by Miss Olga Larson of Chicago with the little Misses Eva and Florence Johnson, nieces of the groom, stretched the ribbons of white chiffon down the living room to a beautifully decorated arch of foliage and flowers where the bride and groom met.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chene trimmed with lace and pearls and a veil of tulle, her only ornament being a diamond pendant, a gift of the groom. She carried a white prayer book with a crepe de chene cover, and a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pink messaline and chiffon and carried bouquets of pink roses. The ribbon stretchers were daintily dressed in white.

After the ceremony a delicious two course supper was served to about eighty guests.

Until the time of her graduation from high school, Mrs. Gunnness was a resident of Beloit. After that she attended the Whitewater Normal school and for the past few years has taught school. During her one year's residence in Janesville she has made many friends.

Mr. Gunnness is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Gunnness of Crosby avenue and is one of Janesville's most promising young men. He is well known and popular among his friends, having had a very large and attended school in this city and for the past few years has been employed at his farm just west of the city.

The young couple left Thursday evening for Chicago. They will be at home to their friends after the 15th of November in their new home on Crosby avenue.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Cornelius Nelson, Magnus Nelson, Mrs. Jacob Johnson, and Mrs. Evan Omsgard and son Sanford, Mrs. O. M. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Linnevald, Mrs. Andrew Jensen, Able Mahbett, Hazel and Nettie Cotton, Ruth and Lester, Ed Lintant, Mary Ellen Westlund, Emma Hanson and Inger Barnes, all of Edgerton; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Berg and Anna Johnson of Beloit and Nordahl Pederson of Chippewa Falls.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN

North Johnstown, Oct. 15.—About forty friends of Mrs. Edward Pierce came to her home Saturday evening and surprised her on her birthday. Music and games were the chief amusements of the evening and at midnight delicious refreshments were served, after which all departed for their homes, wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

Many attended the dance at Johnstown Center last Friday evening.

Mr. J. M. Long and family delivered hogs in Janesville Thursday.

Many from here attended the funeral of Martin Conlon, who was buried from St. Mary's church in Milton Junction last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. White and family are moving onto O. B. Hall's farm and will work it this coming year.

H. Hudson has taken Mrs. Elizabeth Malone's farm to work this coming year.

Mrs. Anna Thompson of Janesville, was a recent guest of friends here.

"PICKPOCKETS' TRUST" EXISTS, JUDGE CLAIMS.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The city council committee on crime, delving into the causes for the existence of bands of pickpockets, ran squarely up against the charge today that a "pickpockets' trust" is operating with the connivance of the police. Municipal Judge H. N. Gemmill said that such a condition has existed for years in Chicago and Municipal Judge John E. Neenan, supported the charge made by Gemmill.

There are between 300 and 600 known pickpockets in Chicago, said Judge Gemmill. "Our lawyers defend them all. They are regularly hired by the organization of pickpockets and there three bondsmen seem to sign all the bonds for pickpockets arrested."

"Every crook that 'plays the game square' can get a bondsman without difficulty, but that's only the beginning of the work of the pickpockets' trust. Complaining witnesses often change their testimony; and in one case a woman was even induced to renege a stolen pocketbook in her husband's coat to save a pickpocket from conviction."

"Some policemen are profiting by the system. They are paid by the organization, just as immoral women pay for protection by the police."

"Professional alibis, selection of friendly witnesses and things of that sort are always well known to lawyers. The pickpockets' organization. Then they always have friends at the city hall to fall back on. In courts where I have been sitting I have seen an assistant city prosecutor nonsuit several cases at once after a telephone conversation with 'head-quarters' at the city hall."

MURDERER WALKS TO HIS DEATH SMILING. Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 16.—Robert Collier, 29, negro, today walked to death in the electric chair smiling. "I'd rather die than spend my life in prison," he said.

Collier shot to death Patrolman John Cain, white, apparently without provocation. He was on parole for a crime at the time. The shooting occurred in Evansville, Ind., June 14 of this year. Collier chuckled when the death sentence was pronounced.
